

ARE TRYING TO ADVANCE

Germans Delivering Hard Blows.

SUCCEED AT ONE POINT

British Forces Lose One Position and Retain Others.

London, Jan. 27.—The Germans have made a somewhat more determined effort than usual against the French and British lines in Flanders and Northern France.

They have delivered an attack on the French to the east of Ypres and no less than five attacks on the first division of the British force on either side of La Basse canal.

Both British and French official reports assert all these attacks failed of their object and the Germans suffered heavy losses.

The Germans, on the other hand, while admitting that their attack on the British, north of the canal, was unsuccessful, say that on the south side of the waterway their efforts resulted in complete success and that the British attempt to recapture these trenches was repulsed with heavy losses.

These attacks followed a heavy bombardment by British artillery of the German positions beyond La Basse in which, according to reports from Boulogne, one big German gun was destroyed, while the Germans were prevented from getting a second heavy gun into position.

Fighting Becoming General.

This was on Saturday. On Monday the Germans made more attacks and some of the hardest fighting of the campaign took place. The hospital at Bethune was shelled by the Germans and the wounded had to be removed to Boulogne. There also has been heavy fighting to the east and west of Craonne, in the Argonne and in Alsace.

The Russians are making another effort to advance in East Prussia, while in Poland there has been a slackening in the fighting on both sides for the moment. The Russians appear to be concentrating themselves on their offensive north of the lower Vistula, while the Austro-Germans are busy making preparations to meet the Russian advance through the passes of the Carpathians and in Southern Bukovina.

Russian submarines have made their appearance in the western portion of the Baltic sea and have succeeded in torpedoing the German cruiser Gazelle, which, however, reached port with the assistance of a Swedish steamer. Their activity has stopped the trade carried on by German steamers between Germany and Sweden.

FOODSTUFFS WILL BE SAFE

German Government Says They Will Not Be Seized.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, notified the state department that his government had given official assurance that no foodstuffs shipped from the United States to Germany would be seized for military or any other government use.

The ambassador's notification to the state department was given verbally, but it was understood that later he would send a formal note on the subject.

Officials surmised that the embassy might have been instructed to make this communication as an explanation that imports from America would not be affected by the announced purpose of the German government to seize certain food supplies, as reported in news dispatches from Berlin.

VOTE FOR NIGHT SESSIONS

Democrats Plan to Defeat Republican Senate Filibuster.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Administration leaders in the senate, asserting that the Republicans were conducting a filibuster against the government ship purchase bill, determined to apply the remedy of long night sessions in the hope of wearing out the opposition.

Democratic senators were particularly aroused because, after the way had been opened for the transaction of routine business for the first time in ten days, Republican senators took up the time reading the long journal of proceedings as well as speeches on various subjects which were submitted for introduction in the Congressional Record.

RUSSIANS DESTROY ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP

German Flyer Drops Bombs on Baltic Seaport.

London, Jan. 27.—It was officially announced in London that the Zeppelin dirigible balloon, which, Monday, dropped bombs on the Russian port of Libau, in the Baltic sea, was destroyed and that the members of its crew were taken prisoners.

The admiralty made public the following official statement from the naval general staff at Petrograd concerning the incident:

"Monday morning a Zeppelin appeared above Libau and had time to drop nine bombs on the undefended part of the town. After being fired at by the fort the Zeppelin fell into the water. Small craft, which were sent out, destroyed the Zeppelin and took her crew prisoners."

JAP DEMANDS ALARM CHINA

Mikado's Government Wants All Future Concessions.

Peking, China, Jan. 27.—Demands which Japan has made on China following the Japanese occupation of Kiaochow have become disquieting to Chinese officials.

These demands include, first, that China turn over to Japan all existing German and Austrian concessions; second, that China pledge herself not to give concessions in the future to any country except Japan; third, permission to build a special territorial railroad, and, fourth, mining privileges in Shantung and Fukien provinces, in Manchuria, in Eastern Mongolia and in the Yangtze valley.

If these demands were granted it is felt in Peking that the result would be tantamount to turning to Japan all the regions above named as spheres of influence to the detriment of the treaty rights of other nations.

It is expected that the funerals of the men will be a signal for a demonstration.

LOSE FOURTEEN SEAMEN KILLED

British Report Casualties in Naval Battle.

CRUISER LION IS DISABLED

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Meteor Also Put Out of Action and Both Vessels Are Towed Into Port for Repairs. Admiralty Denies Loss of Any Warship Engaged in Sunday's Fight.

London, Jan. 27.—The British fleet did not escape unscathed in the naval battle on the North sea with the Germans last Sunday. The battle cruiser Lion, which led the British squadron, and the torpedo boat destroyer Meteor both were disabled and had to be towed into port, while one officer and thirteen men were killed and three officers and twenty-six men wounded on three of the ships—the Lion, Tiger and Meteor.

This information is contained in an admiralty statement issued. The statement gives denial to the German reports that one British cruiser and two torpedo boat destroyers were sunk, by declaring that all the British ships engaged in the action have returned to port in safety.

The announcement, made by the secretary of the admiralty, says:

"All the British ships and torpedo boat destroyers engaged in Sunday's action have returned in safety to port."

"The Lion, which had some of her forward compartments flooded by shells below the water line, was taken in tow by the cruiser Indomitable. The destroyer Meteor, which also was disabled, was taken in tow by the destroyer Liberty. Both vessels were guarded by strong escorts of destroyers. Repairs to both vessels can be made speedily."

Official Casualty List.

"The total number of casualties among the officers and men reported to the admiralty is: On the Lion seventeen men wounded; on the Tiger one officer and nine men killed and three officers and eight men wounded; on the Meteor four men killed and one man wounded."

"It is not believed that any other casualties occurred, but if so they will be published immediately."

"As soon as Vice Admiral Beatty's report is received a fuller account will be given."

The statement adds that the damaged British vessels can be repaired speedily. The Lion was struck by a German shell below the water line and some of her forward compartments were flooded. Details of the damage sustained by the Meteor were not announced.

The Lion and her sister ship, the Princess Royal, were the largest in the British squadron. In leading the line the Lion came in closer contact with the Germans and did most of the fighting. She was largely responsible for the sinking of the German armored cruiser Bluecher.

The Meteor is one of the largest and fastest torpedo boat destroyers afloat. She is one of thirteen of her class built under the naval estimates of 1913. A dozen similar boats were authorized in the estimates of 1914.

CANAL SLIDES WORRY WILSON

Goethals Gives Estimates for Supplemental Canal Options.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Colonel Goethals' admission that the Panama canal probably will not be open for naval vessels' passage in March is causing the administration worry.

Though the colonel expressed hope that further removals of earth or some cementing process would prevent further slides it was tacitly admitted Secretary of State Bryan's plans for treaties in the interest of a supplemental canal through Nicaragua and Costa Rica was due to the government's anxiety to guard against present "uncertainties."

For $3,000,000 to Nicaragua and $1,500,000 to Costa Rica, it was said, the necessary options could be secured.

SHIPPING BILL WILL BE PASSED

But Senate Kickers Don't Like Wilson's Compromises.

RURAL CREDITS POSTPONED

Many Senators Disappointed In That No Legislation Tending to Improve Farmers' Money Market Has Been Attempted—Prohibition Discussion Aroused Bitterness In Both Houses.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The sharp differences that have arisen between the president and members of his party in the senate have brought about efforts to secure a compromise.

"Everybody should be willing to compromise, and it is the only way to achieve success," said one of the peace-makers of the Democratic party.

"The difficulty in compromising where the president is involved," remarked one of the Democratic senators who has been opposing the president, "is that we generally find it necessary to agree with him in order to bring about an adjustment. Many of us find that in many compromises the White House gets the turkey and the senate gets the crow."

Shipping Bill and Rural Credits.

An instance of the presidential compromise is shown in two bills in which the two ends of Pennsylvania avenue are most interested. President Wilson is anxious to have the shipping bill passed and has insisted that it must go through. A large proportion of the Democratic membership of both the senate and house are anxious to have the rural credits legislation passed. And the compromise on these two measures was that the shipping bill was put on the program and the rural credits pushed over until another session.

But President Wilson does not differ from other presidents in this regard. It seems to have become the prerogative of presidents to have their own way in legislation, particularly when the party to which they belong is in power in both houses of congress.

Unavailing Pleas.

Jerry Donovan of Connecticut made a strong appeal for river and harbor money for his state. He pointed out how the other states were getting such a large share. "Gentlemen forget that Connecticut was left at the tail of the line," he said. "I appeal to you for justice. Give one of the busy bee places in Connecticut at least what you would give for removing the snags and hazyhath from the rivers that are lacking commerce in many of the states." But they did not heed the pathetic appeal of the Connecticut congressman.

Who Are the People?

There was a discussion in the senate on forest reserves, and Senator Chamberlain of Oregon said that the reserves had been made for the benefit of the people.

"Hold on a minute," injected Senator Borah of Idaho. "The trouble is that the word 'people' is used in such an intangible and abstract way. Now, who are the people that will be benefited? From my point of view the people of Idaho would be benefited by cutting down the forest reserves to the actual forests and the people of the United States will not be benefited one iota by retaining the forest reserves in their present condition. In my view the people are really represented by the individual who wants to seek a home on these western lands and is prevented from doing so under present conditions."

Aroused Bitterness.

In the years gone by the most bitter discussions arose over religious questions, and they are now rarely brought forward in any legislative body. Just now bitter differences are aroused over the prohibition question, and men say as sharp things about each other when they differ on this subject as they formerly did in a religious dispute. Personality lines have been obliterated and personalities injected into the debate to an extent that has rarely been known.

Jones Was Unparliamentary.

Senator Jones of Washington was discussing the liquor bill in the senate and desired to tell what took place in the house of representatives in regard to liquor legislation. He started in to say "it would be unparliamentary for me to say" and he would describe what was done and add, "And so I will not say it." He did this three or four times until he had stated what had taken place in the other house and yet had observed the parliamentary fiction, which saved him from being called to order.

The Difference.

"My husband says he's going to have a corking good time at his club to-night."

"I'm afraid mine is going to have an uncorking time at his."—Baltimore

LORIMER AGAIN INDICTED

Three More True Bills as Result of Wrecking Chicago Bank.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Three additional indictments were returned in federal court against William Lorimer, president of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank; Charles B. Munday, its vice president, and Henry W. Huttig, a director, charging misapplication of the funds of the institution.

Bonds were fixed at $15,000 each and Judge Carpenter ordered that the same bonds on which they previously were released be security in the new indictments.

STOCK YARDS AGAIN UNDER QUARANTINE

Foot and Mouth Disease Is Found in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—An embargo on the shipment of cattle, sheep or hogs from the Chicago Union Stock yards was restored by the United States bureau of animal industry in an order to Dr. U. G. Houck, chief veterinary of the bureau.

No more shipments will be made until all pens and alleys have been disinfected.

The action followed the discovery of the foot and mouth disease in carload shipments to Philadelphia.

SPEAKERSHIP MOVE FAILS

Lee O'Neil Browne Attempts to Organize Illinois House.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 27.—Failure of an attempt by Lee O'Neil Browne, Democratic candidate for speaker, to organize the Illinois house of representatives along wet and dry lines was the chief development in the fight being waged to elect a speaker for the lower body of the Illinois general assembly.

Browne attempted to call a caucus of wet adherents, regardless of party affiliations, and elect a speaker from their number. The Republicans did not wish to go on record as voting for a Democrat.

The thirty-eighth ballot cast revealed the situation little changed.

SELLS TROUSERS FOR TEST

Salvation Army Officer Breaks Los Angeles Law.

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—A pair of second hand trousers was taken from the stock of a Salvation Army industrial store by Major William J. Dart and sold to an assistant city prosecutor. This was a violation of the municipal charities ordinance and Major Dart was arrested to provide a test case before the state supreme court.

The test was determined upon by Salvation Army officers as a result of the paralysis of their work here by the operation of the charity ordinance, which places all such institutions under the control of the municipal charities commission.

WADE FOR FEDERAL BENCH

President Wilson Reported Ready to Appoint Him.

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 27.—A conference between Congressman Vollmer and Attorney General Gregory and Judge Martin J. Wade of this city at Washington was followed by a report sent here that President Wilson had agreed to the appointment of Judge Wade to succeed the late Smith McPherson as judge of the United States court for the Southern district of Iowa.

DEFENDS FATHER IN TESTIMONY

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Before Federal Commission.

PLACES GIFTS AT BIG SUM

Witness Testifies He Is Justified in Saying Oil Magnate Has Devoted to Philanthropic Purposes a Quarter of a Billion Dollars—Also Asserts His Belief in Use of a Blacklist.

New York, Jan. 27.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told the United States commission on industrial relations, which is investigating the great philanthropic foundations and the cause of industrial unrest, he felt justified in placing the amount of money his father had devoted to philanthropy at a quarter of a billion dollars.

John D. Rockefeller, his son said, has been making gifts of money since his early boyhood. The witness had no data in his possession which would show "how much more the world would have been benefited," if this $250,000,000 had been given to labor in increased wages.

The commission dug deep into the charges that the Colorado Fuel and Iron company controlled politicians in the mining districts; furnished deputy sheriffs with firearms when trouble seemed imminent and paid them salaries.

The witness was in favor of the employment of a "blacklist," but he did not believe such a list should be circulated among other employers of labor.

LAYS STRESS ON PROMISES

President Wilson Addresses Washington Y. M. C. A.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Praise for men who fulfill their promises and admiration for unselfishness were voiced by President Wilson in an address here opening a membership campaign of the District of Columbia Young Men's Christian association.

The president declared the social motive was the Christian motive and that he could "almost assess the character of a community by the manner in which it supports or does not support its Y. M. C. A."

"I have long ago learned to receive with amiability, I hope, the professions of all sorts and conditions of men," he said. "If a man wishes me to consider him loyal, for example, I must really trouble him to show his quality when he is put to the test."

LABOR BUREAU IS FORMED

Plan to Unite "Jobless Man and Manless Job."

Washington, Jan. 27.—Formal announcement of the inauguration of a great federal employment bureau by the department of labor, with the assistance of the postoffice and agricultural departments, was made by Secretary Wilson.

Through a circular letter sent to all sections of the country the secretary called the attention of the public to the government movement to bring together "the manless job and the jobless man."

Agents of the agricultural and post-office departments have been provided with blanks so that employers and employment seekers in almost any part of the United States may make their applications without waiting to communicate with Washington.

MAY OUST PLUCKING BOARD

Navy Heads Draft Bill Providing for Promotion of Officers.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Abolition of the plucking board, for years the dread of naval officers, is one of the chief provisions of a new naval personnel bill drafted by a board headed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and transmitted to congress by Secretary Daniels.

In lieu of the board, which annually retired a certain number of officers in the higher grades, the new bill would establish the principle of promotion by competitive methods and the selection of the most efficient officers for advancement.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Roberto Brenes Mesen, minister from Costa Rica to the United States, discussed at length with Secretary Bryan the terms of the new treaty by which an option on Costa Rica's rights in the Nicaraguan canal route would be purchased by this government.

Such progress was made, it was said, that an agreement on a draft may be expected within a short time

Though the colonel expressed hope that further removals of earth or some cementing process would prevent further slides it was tacitly admitted Secretary of State Bryan's plans for treaties in the interest of a supplemental canal through Nicaragua and Costa Rica was due to the government's anxiety to guard against present "uncertainties."

For $3,000,000 to Nicaragua and $1,500,000 to Costa Rica, it was said, the necessary options could be secured.

SHIPPING BILL WILL BE PASSED

But Senate Kickers Don't Like Wilson's Compromises.

RURAL CREDITS POSTPONED

Many Senators Disappointed in That No Legislation Tending to Improve Farmers' Money Market Has Been Attempted—Prohibition Discussion Aroused Bitterness in Both Houses.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The sharp differences that have arisen between the president and members of his party in the senate have brought about efforts to secure a compromise.

"Everybody should be willing to compromise, and it is the only way to achieve success," said one of the peace-makers of the Democratic party.

"The difficulty in compromising where the president is involved," remarked one of the Democratic senators who has been opposing the president, "is that we generally find it necessary to agree with him in order to bring about an adjustment. Many of us find that in many compromises the White House gets the turkey and the senate gets the crow."

Shipping Bill and Rural Credits.

An instance of the presidential compromise is shown in two bills in which the two ends of Pennsylvania avenue are most interested. President Wilson is anxious to have the shipping bill passed and has insisted that it must go through. A large proportion of the Democratic membership of both the senate and house are anxious to have the rural credits legislation passed. And the compromise on these two measures was that the shipping bill was put on the program and the rural credits pushed over until another session.

But President Wilson does not differ from other presidents in this regard. It seems to have become the prerogative of presidents to have their own way in legislation, particularly when the party to which they belong is in power in both houses of congress.

Unavailing Pleas.

Jerry Donovan of Connecticut made a strong appeal for river and harbor money for his state. He pointed out how the other states were getting such a large share. "Gentlemen forget that Connecticut was left at the tail of the line," he said. "I appeal to you for justice. Give one of the busy bee places in Connecticut at least what you would give for removing the snags and hinchin from the rivers that are lacking commerce in many of the states." But they did not heed the pathetic appeal of the Connecticut congressman.

Who Are the People?

There was a discussion in the senate on forest reserves, and Senator Chamberlain of Oregon said that the reserves had been made for the benefit of the people.

"I told on a minute," injected Senator Borah of Idaho. "The trouble is that the word 'people' is used in such an intangible and abstract way. Now, who are the people that will be benefited? From my point of view the people of Idaho would be benefited by cutting down the forest reserves to the actual forests and the people of the United States will not be benefited one iota by retaining the forest reserves in their present condition. In my view the people are really represented by the individual who wants to seek a home on these western lands and is prevented from doing so under present conditions."

Aroused Bitterness.

In the years gone by the most bitter discussions arose over religious questions, and they are now rarely brought forward in any legislative body. Just now bitter differences are aroused over the prohibition question, and men say as sharp things about each other when they differ on this subject as they formerly did in a religious dispute. Party lines have been obliterated and personalities injected into the debate to an extent that has rarely been known.

Jones Was Unparliamentary.

Senator Jones of Washington was discussing the liquor bill in the senate and desired to tell what took place in the house of representatives in regard to liquor legislation. He started in to say "it would be unparliamentary for me to say" and he would describe what was done and add, "And so I will not say it." He did this three or four times until he had stated what had taken place in the other house and yet had observed the parliamentary fiction, which saved him from being called to order.

The Difference.

WILLIAM LORIMER.

Again Indicted as Result of Chicago Bank Failure.

LORIMER AGAIN INDICTED

Three More True Bills as Result of Wrecking Chicago Bank.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Three additional indictments were returned in federal court against William Lorimer, president of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank; Charles B. Munday, its vice president, and Henry W. Huttig, a director, charging misapplication of the funds of the institution.

Bonds were fixed at $15,000 each and Judge Carpenter ordered that the same bonds on which they previously were released be security in the new indictments.

STOCK YARDS AGAIN UNDER QUARANTINE

Foot and Mouth Disease Is Found in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—An embargo on the shipment of cattle, sheep or hogs from the Chicago Union Stock yards was restored by the United States bureau of animal industry in an order to Dr. U. G. Houck, chief veterinary of the bureau.

No more shipments will be made until all pens and alleys have been disinfected.

The action followed the discovery of the foot and mouth disease in carload shipments to Philadelphia.

SPEAKERSHIP MOVE FAILS

Lee O'Neil Browne Attempts to Organize Illinois House.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 27.—Failure of an attempt by Lee O'Neil Browne, Democratic candidate for speaker, to organize the Illinois house of representatives along wet and dry lines was the chief development in the fight being waged to elect a speaker for the lower body of the Illinois general assembly.

Browne attempted to call a caucus of wet adherents, regardless of party affiliations, and elect a speaker from their number. The Republicans did not wish to go on record as voting for a Democrat.

The thirty-eighth ballot cast revealed the situation little changed.

SELLS TROUSERS FOR TEST

Salvation Army Officer Breaks Los Angeles Law.

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—A pair of second hand trousers was taken from the stock of a Salvation Army industrial store by Major William J. Dart and sold to an assistant city prosecutor. This was a violation of the municipal charities ordinance and Major Dart was arrested to provide a test case before the state supreme court.

The test was determined upon by Salvation Army officers as a result of the paralysis of their work here by the operation of the charity ordinance, which places all such institutions under the control of the municipal charities commission.

WADE FOR FEDERAL BENCH

President Wilson Reported Ready to Appoint Him.

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 27.—A conference between Congressman Vollmer and Attorney General Gregory and Judge Martin J. Wade of this city at Washington was followed by a report sent here that President Wilson had agreed to the appointment of Judge Wade to succeed the late Smith McPherson as judge of the United States court for the Southern district of Iowa.

DEFENDS FATHER IN TESTIMONY

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Before Federal Commission.

PLACES GIFTS AT BIG SUM

Witness Testifies He Is Justified in Saying Oil Magnate Has Devoted to Philanthropic Purposes a Quarter of a Billion Dollars—Also Asserts His Belief in Use of a Blacklist.

New York, Jan. 27.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told the United States commission on industrial relations, which is investigating the great philanthropic foundations and the cause of industrial unrest, he felt justified in placing the amount of money his father had devoted to philanthropy at a quarter of a billion dollars.

John D. Rockefeller, his son said, has been making gifts of money since his early boyhood. The witness had no data in his possession which would show "how much more the world would have been benefited," if this $250,000,000 had been given to labor in increased wages.

The commission dug deep into the charges that the Colorado Fuel and Iron company controlled politicians in the mining districts; furnished deputy sheriffs with firearms when trouble seemed imminent and paid them salaries.

The witness was in favor of the employment of a "blacklist," but he did not believe such a list should be circulated among other employers of labor.

LAYS STRESS ON PROMISES

President Wilson Addresses Washington Y. M. C. A.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Praise for men who fulfill their promises and admiration for unselfishness were voiced by President Wilson in an address here opening a membership campaign of the District of Columbia Young Men's Christian association.

The president declared the social motive was the Christian motive and that he could "almost assess the character of a community by the manner in which it supports or does not support its Y. M. C. A."

"I have long ago learned to receive with amiability, I hope, the professions of all sorts and conditions of men," he said. "If a man wishes me to consider him loyal, for example, I must really trouble him to show his quality when he is put to the test."

LABOR BUREAU IS FORMED

Plan to Unite "Jobless Man and Manless Job."

Washington, Jan. 27.—Formal announcement of the inauguration of a great federal employment bureau by the department of labor, with the assistance of the postoffice and agricultural departments, was made by Secretary Wilson.

Through a circular letter sent to all sections of the country the secretary called the attention of the public to the government movement to bring together "the manless job and the jobless man."

Agents of the agricultural and post-office departments have been provided with blanks so that employers and employment seekers in almost any part of the United States may make their applications without waiting to communicate with Washington.

MAY OUST PLUCKING BOARD

Navy Heads Draft Bill Providing for Promotion of Officers.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Abolition of the plucking board, for years the dread of naval officers, is one of the chief provisions of a new naval personnel bill drafted by a board headed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and transmitted to congress by Secretary Daniels.

In lieu of the board, which annually retired a certain number of officers in the higher grades, the new bill would establish the principle of promotion by competitive methods and the selection of the most efficient officers for advancement.

NEW TREATY IS DISCUSSED

Minister From Costa Rica Confers With Bryan.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Roberto Brenes Mesen, minister from Costa Rica to the United States, discussed at length with Secretary Bryan the terms of the new treaty by which the Nicaragua canal route would be purchased by this government.

Such progress was made, it was said, that an agreement on a draft may be expected within a short time.

THE WEATHER

Weather Forecast for Next 24 Hours.
Fair tonight and probably Thursday. Slowly rising temperature.
January 26, maximum 5 above, minimum 18 below.

And the newspapers are commencing to talk about the first robin.

Winona county is considered as one of the most progressive in the state in the matter of road building, having built several miles of concrete and other modern highways. The state highway commission has just made final approval of 85 miles of modern highway and an additional 22 miles of country road is planned by the commissioners.

The issue before the legislature regarding women suffrage is not whether the women of Minnesota shall have the ballot, but whether the men of Minnesota shall vote on whether they shall have it and is the argument used to induce a submission of the question to the people. Mary McFadden, the popular newspaper woman, will champion the bill and lead the forces that will storm the capitol.

Minneapolis is planning a census of the unemployed in response to the expressed wish of President Wilson who believes the estimate to be exaggerated and that business conditions have greatly improved. The cities that do take up this work will have to stand the expense, and many will think that the sum expended would answer a better end if applied to the relief of some of the unemployed than counting them.

Great market terminals are to be built in New York City to enter into a general plan for reducing the cost of living to the people in that city. A million dollars will be spent for the erection of the first of a dozen or more planned to receive and distribute foodstuffs. These market terminals will be leased by co-operative companies and conducted under rules laid down by the commissioner of foods and markets, the profits of which will be limited to 6 per cent a year.

There seems to be a general scramble by certain members of the legislature to put the existing Dunn and Elwell road laws out of commission, wipe out the highway commission and put the matter of financing road matters back in the hands of the county commissioners and town boards. Under present conditions state roads are designated by county commissioners subject to approval by the highway commission, while the plans are approved and work inspected by state engineers. The friends of the present road laws are working to prevent the abolition of scientific road supervision and point out that the Dunn law has not really had a chance, as the levy of the 1-mill tax which will furnish the state a million or more to put into road work, was first made in 1914 and that the money will become available for use in the tax receipts of 1915, and that not until the end of the year will it be possible to make a real showing. The road law proposition was agitated in various parts of the state previous to election and was carried into the campaign for the election of members to the legislature and some were pledged to radical changes, and it is along these lines that the fight is being carried. A public hearing on the Elwell road law repeal will be held in the house chamber at the state capitol on Tuesday, Feb. 24, before the house committee on roads of which Hon. C. W. Bouck of this district is chairman. This will be an opportunity to participate in the discussion before the committee makes its recommendation for or against the passage.

Today is the coldest day of the winter. At midnight the thermometer at the Gull lake dam measured 22 below. It held this figure for some time. At 7 this morning it figured down to 30 below. At 8 o'clock it slid down two points further, making it 32 below. Then a slight break came and the temperature started to moderate a few points. As Brainerd residence thermometers usually vary five points from the Gull lake official figures, some had 37 below this morning. Coupled with the low thermometer was one of those fresh breezes that the weather bureau often mentions. The central hose house had 36 below at 8 o'clock.

The issue before the legislature regarding women suffrage is not whether the women of Minnesota shall have the ballot, but whether the men of Minnesota shall vote on whether they shall have it and is the argument used to induce a submission of the question to the people. Mary McFadden, the popular newspaper woman, will champion the bill and lead the forces that will storm the capitol.

Minneapolis is planning a census of the unemployed in response to the expressed wish of President Wilson who believes the estimate to be exaggerated and that business conditions have greatly improved. The cities that do take up this work will have to stand the expense, and many will think that the sum expended would answer a better end if applied to the relief of some of the unemployed than counting them.

Great market terminals are to be built in New York City to enter into a general plan for reducing the cost of living to the people in that city. A million dollars will be spent for the erection of the first of a dozen or more planned to receive and distribute foodstuffs. These market terminals als will be leased by co-operative companies and conducted under rules laid down by the commissioner of foods and markets, the profits of which will be limited to 6 per cent a year.

There seems to be a general scramble by certain members of the legislature to put the existing Dunn and Elwell road laws out of commission, wipe out the highway commission and put the matter of financing road matters back in the hands of the county commissioners and town boards. Under present conditions state roads are designated by county commissioners subject to approval by the highway commission, while the plans are approved and work inspected by state engineers. The friends of the present road laws are working to prevent the abolition of scientific road supervision and point out that the Dunn law has not really had a chance, as the levy of the 1-mill tax which will furnish the state a million or more to put into road work, was first made in 1914 and that the money will become available for use in the tax receipts of 1915, and that not until the end of the year will it be possible to make a real showing. The road law proposition was agitated in various parts of the state previous to election and was carried into the campaign for the election of members to the legislature and some were pledged to radical changes, and it is along these lines that the fight is being carried. A public hearing on the Elwell road law repeal will be held in the house chamber at the state capitol on Tuesday, Feb. 2d, before the house committee on roads of which Hon. C. W. Bouck of this district is chairman. This will be an opportunity to participate in the discussion before the committee makes its recommendation for or against the passage.

Today is the coldest day of the winter. At midnight the thermometer at the Gull lake dam measured 22 below. It held this figure for some time. At 7 this morning it figured down to 30 below. At 8 o'clock it slid down two points further, making it 32 below. Then a slight break came and the temperature started to moderate a few points. As Brainerd residence thermometers usually vary five points from the Gull lake official figures, some had 37 below this morning. Coupled with the low thermometer was one of those fresh breezes that the weather bureau often mentions. The central hose house had 36 below at 8 o'clock.

CITY WATER IS REPORTED GOOD

State Board of Health Passes on a Lot of Samples From the Mains and Points in City

THE HYPOCHLORITE PLANT
Was Being Operated in a Careful and Painsstaking Manner, Praises the Engineer

In a report from the state board of health, the Brainerd water and light board is assured that the city water pumped from the river and treated at the hypochlorite plant before being pumped into the mains is healthful.

The field inspections, says the report, shows that the hypochlorite plant was being operated in a careful and painsstaking manner. The analytical data shows the supply to have been of good sanitary quality and suitable for public consumption at the time of this visit. In water taken from the river a trace of iron was revealed.

The report of the division of sanitation, of the Minnesota state board of health, in detail says:

FIELD DATA

No changes have been made in the public water supply or method of treatment with calcium hypochlorite since the time of the previous inspection on March 3, 1914. At the time of the present inspection everything relating to the chemical administering plant was running in a satisfactory manner. Upon checking up the various processes it was found that the conditions were almost identical with those prescribed at the time of the previous visit. No defects were found in the mechanical workings of the plant. The strength of the chemical solution and quality of flow were equal to the standard as previously determined.

The following data show the factors concerned in the treatment as they existed at this time:

Gallons of water pumped per 24 hours, 1,500,000; pounds of chemical applied per mix, 18½; gallons of water user per mix, 100; percent available chlorine in chemical (sample No. 51) 37.93; grams available chlorine in 1 c. c. solution, 0.0068; C. c. of solution applied per minute, 1.080; P. P. M. available chlorine added to water, 1.9.

Samples were collected from the raw and treated supplies for analysis.

ANALYTICAL DATA

See analytical sheets, samples 14075 to 14079, inclusive.

INTERPRETATION OF RESULTS.

The analysis of sample 14075, representing the untreated supply direct from the Mississippi river, shows a count of 70 bacteria per c. c. and B. coli was found present in both 1 c. c. and 100 c. c. amounts. The chemical analysis of this sample shows a water of fairly good physical properties, a fair degree of hardness with but small amounts of unoxidized organic materials. These results show the water in the Mississippi river opposite the Brainerd pumping station to have been of a relatively good quality at the time of this inspection. The presence of B. coli in 1 c. c. amounts shows the need of purification.

The analyses of samples 14076, 14077, 14078 and 14079, representing the treated supply and collected at various points on the distribution system, show counts of 3, 2, 3 and 1 bacteria per c. c. respectively, and B. coli was not found present in 100 c. c. amounts in any of these samples. The result on this group of samples show that the hypochlorite treatment was being applied in a satisfactory

Hearing on Senator Gardner's Bill—Rep. Syverson has Bill Affecting Court at Crosby

There will be a joint hearing before the senate and house committees on labor and labor legislation in the house chamber Wednesday afternoon on the bill, by Senator Geo. H. Gardner, of Brainerd, requiring railroads to pay their men semi-monthly.

The senate committee on public domain, of which Senator O. H. Griggs of Virginia is chairman, had before it yesterday afternoon the two bills by Senator R. C. Dunn of Princeton to establish the state's right to lease iron ore deposits underlying the waters of meandered lakes and streams.

At the request of Chairman Griggs, the bills were laid over until next Thursday afternoon to give anybody who may be interested an opportunity to be heard.

Valuable iron deposits are understood to underlie some of the waters of Northern Minnesota, and the attempt to assert the state's right to the use of these riches has been in progress for some time.

As it stands, nobody can use them. The shore owners might come into the right to do so if the lakes ever went dry; in the meantime the state has dominion over the waters of the lakes, but unless its present contention can be established it cannot sell the ore.

Senator Dunn's bills would establish the state's right, and would keep off trespassers in the meantime. One of them is a proposed constitutional amendment, which will require a vote of the people to make it effective.

The house committee on villages, of which Representative Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, is chairman, laid over for one week Representative Samuel C. Scott's bill to authorize the consolidation of villages whose boundaries are the same for half a mile or more. The law now authorizes such consolidation where the boundaries are identical for a mile and a half.

Mr. Scott aims to make possible the consolidation of the village of Kittsville with the village of Hibbing; but Representative E. E. Syverson of Ironton, found that as it stands the bill would affect his community, and he will urge an amendment, which Mr. Scott says he will accept, providing that only villages of 8,000 people shall be affected. This will confine the application of the bill to Hibbing and Kittsville, and will eliminate such villages as Costin and Mountain Iron as well as Ironton and Crosby.

Representative Syverson of Ironton, introduced a bill repealing the law establishing a municipal court at Crosby.

A new bill by Representative Vasily of Little Falls, requires railroads to put stalls in cattle cars.

Senator Gardner, of Brainerd, in a new bill proposes to pay the traveling expenses of district court reporters.

Motor Sled Propeller of Rudolph Boppel Whirls on to Wm. Englund, Injuring Him

While trying out the motor sled of Rudolph Boppel, running the sled on the cement floor of the Sherlund Co. garage, William Englund got in the path of the whirling propeller and had his arm nicked. A gash was cut in his heavy mackinaw coat and a piece of flesh taken out of the arm. It is not believed the arm was broken.

The propeller flew to pieces and the assembled spectators ducked the wreckage. Altogether it was an exciting demonstration of the Boppel motor sled. Today Englund carries his arm in a sling and is assisting Boppel and the others to get out a new propeller.

HAS OPTION FOR A LEASE

50 Year Lease, 30 Cents Royalty, Minimum 10,000 First Year and 25,000 Annually Thereafter

John Harrington, of Hibbing, has affixed his name to a contract for a lease of the mineral lands which were bequeathed to the city of Brainerd by the late Judge G. W. Holland, and city officials will soon attach their names to the option for a lease. Harrington has optioned the forty acres north of the Parker & Topping foundry and two other tracts in Southeast Brainerd, one being located near the Cuyuna Range addition to Brainerd.

The term of the lease is 50 years, the royalty 30 cents a ton and the minimum tonnage to be mined 10,000 tons the first year and 25,000 tons the second year and annually thereafter for the balance of the term. Exploration work is to commence within thirty days.

manner, and that the treated supply was free from contamination.

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSION.

1. The field inspection shows that the hypochlorite plant was being operated in a careful and painsstaking manner.

2. The analytical data show the supply to have been of good sanitary quality and suitable for public consumption at the time of this visit.

The report was accepted and placed on file. All members of the board were present at the meeting on Tuesday evening, called there by the president.

THE SEMI-MONTHLY PAYDAYS

Hearing on Senator Gardner's Bill—Rep. Syverson has Bill Affecting Court at Crosby

There will be a joint hearing before the senate and house committees on labor and labor legislation in the house chamber Wednesday afternoon on the bill, by Senator Geo. H. Gardner, of Brainerd, requiring railroads to pay their men semi-monthly.

The senate committee on public domain, of which Senator O. H. Griggs of Virginia is chairman, had before it yesterday afternoon the two bills by Senator R. C. Dunn of Princeton to establish the state's right to lease iron ore deposits underlying the waters of meandered lakes and streams. At the request of Chairman Griggs, the bills were laid over until next Thursday afternoon to give anybody who may be interested an opportunity to be heard.

Valuable iron deposits are understood to underlie some of the waters of Northern Minnesota, and the attempt to assert the state's right to the use of these riches has been in progress for some time. As it stands, nobody can use them. The shore owners might come into the right to do so if the lakes ever went dry; in the meantime the state has dominion over the waters of the lakes, but unless its present contention can be established it cannot sell the ore.

Senator Dunn's bills would establish the state's right, and would keep off trespassers in the meantime. One of them is a proposed constitutional amendment, which will require a vote of the people to make it effective.

The house committee on villages, of which Representative Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, is chairman, laid over for one week Representative Samuel C. Scott's bill to authorize the consolidation of villages whose boundaries are the same for half a mile or more. The law now authorizes such consolidation where the boundaries are identical for a mile and a half.

Mr. Scott aims to make possible the consolidation of the village of Kittsville with the village of Hibbing; but Representative E. E. Syverson of Ironton, found that as it stands the bill would affect his community, and he will urge an amendment, which Mr. Scott says he will accept, providing that only villages of 8,000 people shall be affected. This will confine the application of the bill to Hibbing and Kittsville, and will eliminate such villages as Costin and Mountain Iron as well as Ironton and Crosby.

Representative Syverson of Ironton, introduced a bill repealing the law establishing a municipal court at Crosby.

A new bill by Representative Vasily of Little Falls, requires railroads to put stalls in cattle cars.

Senator Gardner, of Brainerd, in a new bill proposes to pay the traveling expenses of district court reporters.

NICKED HIS ARM

Motor Sled Propeller of Rudolph Boppel Whirls on to Wm. Englund, Injuring Him

While trying out the motor sled of Rudolph Boppel, running the sled on the cement floor of the Sherlund Co. garage, William Englund got in the path of the whirling propeller and had his arm nicked. A gash was cut in his heavy mackinaw coat and a piece of flesh taken out of the arm. It is not believed the arm was broken.

The propeller flew to pieces and the assembled spectators ducked the wreckage. Altogether it was an exciting demonstration of the Boppel motor sled. Today Englund carries his arm in a sling and is assisting Boppel and the others to get out a new propeller.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Brainerd People Fail to Realize the Seriousness

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.

Learn the cause—then cure it. Possibly its weak kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

We present the following case as proof:

Mrs. Hettie Wandrie, N. First St., Crosby, Minn., says: "I suffered a great deal from pains in the small of my back and sides. I also had headaches and felt very miserable. My system seemed to be deranged. The kidney secretations were unnatural. I finally tried Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time after I began using them, I was feeling better and I have improved steadily ever since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wandrie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

As they passed out the detective continued hesitatingly. "Do you know Mrs. Darnell very well?"

There was that in the man's tone that made John pause before answering. He glanced at the cool, impassive face and caught the glint of the steady eyes. He took a sudden resolution.

"I believe you're really interested in this matter," Dorr said briefly. "Suppose we talk this over before hunting the taxi chauffeur."

"I was merely curious, that's all," was the noncommittal murmur.

"That girl is not her daughter," John continued. "I have reason to believe that it is Miss Ruth Gallon, the heiress to the 'Master Key' mine, whom she is abducting." His passion blazed forth in spite of his self-restraint. "I must find her and save her."

"Might I ask what relation you are to the young lady?" asked the detective mildly.

John stared at him and then realized the oddity of his actions and words. He briefly explained his position at the mine and his wardship of the heiress. He also went into detail as to what he suspected Wilkerson of, describing him carefully.

"He was one of them, sure enough," agreed the detective. "But young heiresses don't being kidnapped days like these out of hotels like this."

"I may be mistaken," John assented wearily. "All I know of Mrs. Darnell is from occasional words dropped by Wilkerson. But I suppose we might get a clue as to where they went away."

After some search of the long line of taxis they came to one which the detective identified as the one Mrs. Darnell had taken the night before.

"Driver, take us where you did those fares who were in such a hurry last night," the detective ordered.

The chauffeur shook his head. "You can search me for the address," he returned. "There wasn't any."

The driver leaned out from his seat and went on earnestly: "You know how they jumped in and we rolled off. Well, it seemed it was a case of life and death, according to the woman, and I stepped on the machine and hastened some toward the North Pacific hospital. But when we got into Chinatown one of the men hailed me and told me to drive just as he said. He got out here in front with me, and when we reached a certain spot they all beat it."

"Can you take us to that spot?" "I was just wondering to myself

whether I could find it," was the response. "But I'll try."

He threw in his clutch and the car left the line and started up the hill toward California street. John Dorr leaned back against the cushions with a strange sense of at last being on his way toward his goal. He barely heard his companion's murmur, "Evidently they took her into the lower part of Chinatown."

We usually credit the oriental with little or no imagination, pointing to his art, his clothes and his language as evidences. As the fact runs, even the Chinese coolie uses the faculty of imagination more frequently than his white brother on an equal social plane.

Sing Wah, or Wah Sing, as he was indifferently called, was outwardly a stolid, dull-eyed Chinese of uncertain middle age. His picture—it was in the gallery of every secret service office from Singapore to Philadelphia—was not less changeless of expression, nor more taciturn than he. Yet in spite of his somber clothes and general air of blank stupidity, Sing Wah was a man of mark, a man with a history replete with adventure and, not too seldom with crime.

If the ordinary criminal could have an office or a store he would quadruple his profits. But the common run of rascals must steal and fly. Their post-office address is a figment. They are not at home when opportunity knocks. Sing Wah knew this, and it was his boast that for thirty years any one who wanted him, either day or night, could find him.

So he sat at the back of his little store night after night, blinking through the wooden screen at the various customers who came in to trade or barter. And year after year they came to his door, the pirate and the thief, the smuggler and the robber, and he took his toll of them and passed them on. Whither? Sing Wah never told. And because he did not tell they came back with greater loot and richer booty, and he again passed them through his store to vanish utterly from the haunts of men and the purview of the police.

Among the many hundreds who had availed themselves of Sing Wah's aid was Wilkerson, who, during dark periods of his career, had several times run athwart the barriers of the law and been compelled to seek refuge where he could.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If tongue is coated or if cross, feverish, constipated give "California Syrup of Figs"

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advt.

"Called Back," a four reel feature, tonight and Thursday. This book of Hugh Conway's "Called Back," has been read by every thinking man and woman in America and Europe. Dr. Ceneri and Macari are two conspirators in London, fighting for what they believe to be the freedom of Italy. The first mentioned has a nephew and niece. He has used the inheritance of his nephew. The niece receives notice from her brother of his intention of looking into the matter. The second conspirator, Macari, suggests the death of the nephew. Gilbert Vaughan, a wealthy gentleman, has an affection of the eyes, which has caused him to be temporarily blind. One day, when his servant is run down by a cab he is left bewildered; he counts the steps and enters a house which he believes to be his own which is the house of the two conspirators. He over hears the quarrel and death of nephew. Years later Vaughan recovers his sight and sees Pauline, the niece, with whom he falls in love. The scenes are all laid in Europe and no expense has been spared in this wonderful production. The management guarantees it.

NO matter how careful one may be in washing sweaters and other knit goods, ordinary laundry soap never leaves them as soft and pretty as when new.

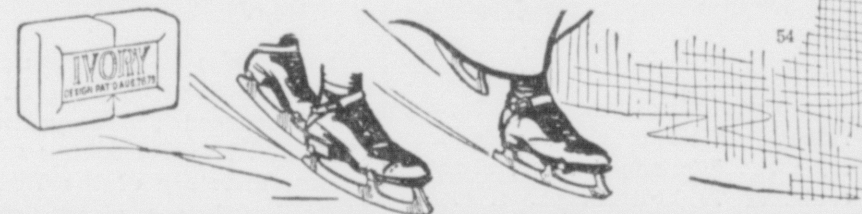

The alkali and inferior fats contract, stiffen and weaken the woolen fibers. This means a change both in the appearance and fit of the garment.

To keep them in perfect condition, wash with Ivory Soap. Because of its freedom from alkali and all harmful materials, Ivory is as easy on these garments as your own careful handling. It cleans them but their texture remains the same.

Here are some timely hints on washing knit goods:

If very loosely woven put them into a pillow case or cheese cloth bag so they will not be stretched. If no bag is used, slip a towel under them to remove them from the suds. Throw the sleeves of sweater over the back of a chair while the body lies on the seat. Use lukewarm water and Ivory Soap Paste. (See directions inside wrapper.) Do not rub soap on the garment or the garment on the board.

As they passed out the detective continued hesitatingly, "Do you know Mrs. Darnell very well?"

There was that in the man's tone that made John pause before answering. He glanced at the cool, impassive face and caught the glint of the steady eyes. He took a sudden resolution.

"I believe you're really interested in this matter," Dorr said briefly. "Suppose we talk this over before hunting the taxi chauffeur."

"I was merely curious, that's all," was the noncommittal murmur.

"That girl is not her daughter," John continued. "I have reason to believe that it is Miss Ruth Gallon, the heiress to the 'Master Key' mine, whom she is abducting." His passion blazed forth in spite of his self-restraint. "I must find her and save her."

"Might I ask what relation you are to the young lady?" asked the detective mildly.

John stared at him and then realized the oddity of his actions and words. He briefly explained his position at the mine and his wardship of the heiress. He also went into detail as to what he suspected Wilkerson of, describing him carefully.

"He was one of them, sure enough," agreed the detective. "But young heiresses ain't being kidnapped days like these out of hotels like this."

"I may be mistaken," John assented wearily. "All I know of Mrs. Darnell is from occasional words dropped by Wilkerson. But I suppose we might get a clue as to where they went anyway."

After some search of the long line of taxis they came to one which the detective identified as the one Mrs. Darnell had taken the night before.

"Driver, take us where you did those fares who were in such a hurry last night," the detective ordered.

The chauffeur shook his head. "You can search me for the address," he returned. "There wasn't any."

The driver leaned out from his seat and went on earnestly: "You know how they jumped in and we rolled off. Well, it seemed it was a case of life and death, according to the woman, and I stepped on the machine and hastened some toward the North Pacific hospital. But when we got into Chinatown one of the men hailed me and told me to drive just as he said. He got out here in front with me, and when we reached a certain spot they all beat it."

"Can you take us to that spot?"

"I was just wondering to myself

whether I could find it," was the response. "But I'll try."

He threw in his clutch and the car left the line and started up the hill toward California street. John Dorr leaned back against the cushions with a strange sense of at last being on his way toward his goal. He barely heard his companion's murmur, "Evidently they took her into the lower part of Chinatown."

We usually credit the oriental with little or no imagination, pointing to his art, his clothes and his language as evidences. As the fact runs, even the Chinese coolie uses the faculty of imagination more frequently than his white brother on an equal social plane.

Sing Wah, or Wah Sing, as he was indifferently called, was outwardly a stolid, dull eyed Chinese of uncertain middle age. His picture—it was in the gallery of every secret service office from Singapore to Philadelphia—was not less changeless of expression, nor more taciturn than he. Yet in spite of his somber clothes and general air of blank stupidity, Sing Wah was a man of mark, a man with a history replete with adventure and, not too seldom with crime.

If the ordinary criminal could have an office or a store he would quadruple his profits. But the common run of rascals must steal and fly. Their post-office address is a figment. They are not at home when opportunity knocks. Sing Wah knew this, and it was his boast that for thirty years any one who wanted him, either day or night, could find him.

So he sat at the back of his little store night after night, blinking through the wooden screen at the various customers who came in to trade or barter. And year after year they came to his door, the pirate and the thief, the smuggler and the robber, and he took his toll of them and passed them on. Whither? Sing Wah never told. And because he did not tell they came back with greater loot and richer booty, and he again passed them through his store to vanish utterly from the haunts of men and the purview of the police.

Among the many hundreds who had availed themselves of Sing Wah's aid was Wilkerson, who, during dark periods of his career, had several times run athwart the barriers of the law and been compelled to seek refuge where he could.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If tongue is coated or if cross, feverish, constipated give "California Syrup of Figs"

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold her, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advt.

Dr. Ceneri and Macari are two conspirators in London, fighting for what they believe to be the freedom of Italy. The first mentioned has a nephew and niece. He has used the inheritance of his nephew. The niece receives notice from her brother of his intention of looking into the matter. The second conspirator, Macari, suggests the death of the nephew. Gilbert Vaughan, a wealthy gentleman, has an affection of the eyes, which has caused him to be temporarily blind. One day, when his servant is run down by a cab he is left bewildered; he counts the steps and enters a house which he believes to be his own which is the house of the two conspirators. He over hears the quarrel and death of nephew. Years later Vaughan recovers his sight and sees Pauline, the niece, with whom he falls in love. The scenes are all laid in Europe and no expense has been spared in this wonderful production. The management guarantees it.

NO matter how careful one may be in washing sweaters and other knit goods, ordinary laundry soap never leaves them as soft and pretty as when new.

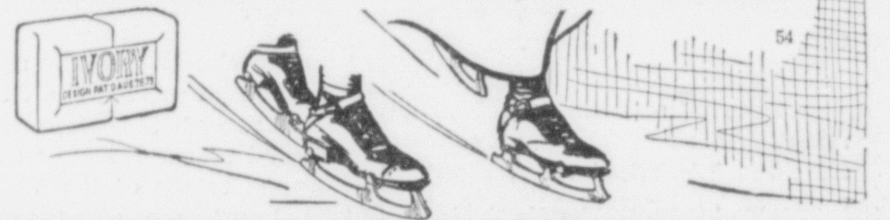

The alkali and inferior fats contract, stiffen and weaken the woolen fibers. This means a change both in the appearance and fit of the garment.

To keep them in perfect condition, wash with Ivory Soap. Because of its freedom from alkali and all harmful materials, Ivory is as easy on these garments as your own careful handling. It cleans them but their texture remains the same.

Here are some timely hints on washing knit goods:

If very loosely woven put them into a pillow case or cheese cloth bag so they will not be stretched. If no bag is used, slip a towel under them to remove them from the suds. Throw the sleeves of sweater over the back of a chair while the body lies on the seat. Use lukewarm water and Ivory Soap Paste. (See directions inside wrapper.) Do not rub soap on the garment or the garment on the board.
